The African Peer Review Mechanism (APRM), established in 2003, is Africa's premier governance self-assessment and promotion tool. Its core mandate is to foster the adoption of policies, standards and practices leading to political stability, high economic growth, sustainable development and accelerated regional and continental economic integration.

Building on previous work in this area, SAIIA and partners have produced several research outputs in the last year, including three civil society submissions to the APRM; a review of the 2nd generation reports of member states, and a paper on the APRM's expanded mandate.

We invite you to join this webinar, as we present our latest research.
